About the Book

What would you risk for the one you love?

Catherine has returned to the sleepy Lake District town of Windermere, after ten years away. Once successful and wealthy, she's shunned by her old friends and desperate for work.

But there's someone that's keeping her here . . . and something that she's got to do before she leaves for ever . .
