Southeast Asia Meeting Destinations

Bangkok, Thailand Meeting Planning Overview

The legendary hospitality of Thailand has long been a popular choice for meetings and events in Southeast Asia. Its vibrant capital, Bangkok, is a top international conference destination, and its first-class meeting venues are renowned for their outstanding service.

Bangkok is easy to get to, thanks to the new Suvarnabhumi International Airport; opened in 2006, the airport handles over 40 million passengers per year from most major cities in North America, Asia, and Europe, and connects to the city via electric rail, bypassing Bangkok's traffic jams. The Don Mueang International Airport, located about 30 minutes north of the city, also serves as a major Bangkok travel hub.

Major Bangkok convention venues include the Bangkok International Trade & Exhibition Center (BITEC), a modern center about five miles from the city center, which spans several large, multi-purpose halls, grand banquet rooms, and state-of-the-art meeting rooms. The stunning Queen Sirikit National Convention Center (QSNCC), located about 11 miles from the city center, is known for its modern technology and beautiful Thai architecture and décor.

This capital city is renowned for its unparalleled meeting and event hospitality, as well as its unique blend of historical charm and modern conveniences and experiences.

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia Meeting Planning Overview

A major business and international events destination, this capital city delights with its multicultural diversity, multitude of venues, and exciting travel experiences for both business and leisure travelers. Home to 1.8 million residents, it's known for its dazzling skyline, as well as its British Colonial architecture and lively markets. It's also known for its traffic jams, so most travelers explore the city either by foot or by its excellent train and light rail systems.

Major Kuala Lumpur meeting and convention venues include the world-class Kuala Lumpur Convention Centre in the city's Central Business District and the Sime Darby Convention Centre, located near the KL Golf and Country Club, which features a tucked-away feel. Genting International Convention Centre is known for its high-tech features, while the Matrade Exhibition & Convention Centre complex is found at the base of Matrade's 24-story architectural icon. The multi-purpose Putra World Trade Centre serves as a city landmark.
