bel presents a collection of fun games for kids to get your lessons off to a lively start. These active games encourage kids to have fun with English and motivate young children to venture into a new world of language. Creating a positive atmosphere in the classroom has always been a high priority for bel as the love for a foreign language will accompany the children for a lifetime. With best wishes from Beate, Karin & Helen

A teal rectangular background with a handwritten-style quote in black ink. The quote is "It takes a big heart to teach little minds". The word "a" is replaced by a red heart, and "little" is preceded by an apple icon. The word "minds" is followed by a small icon of a notepad and pencil.

Saying Hello

You need:	Flashcards on one topic, e.g. animals
Preparation:	None needed
Number of players:	4+ people
Age:	3+

Game rules

This game is particularly suitable for courses with younger children and is a great way to start using flashcards. Younger children really have a lot of fun greeting animals, friends and even objects. They can do that in this game, too! Have the children spread the flashcards around the classroom on the floor and in the corners. First of all, you should greet the illustrations. Then encourage the children to copy you. Make sure that each child gets a go!

Tip!

Once the children have mastered the correct greeting, incorporate deliberate mistakes. E.g. "Hello, kangaroo! How are you?" When you are greeting the monkey. Of course, your little students will happily correct you. "Nooo! That is the monkey!"
