

CATHY WOODMAN

Bestselling author of Trust Me, I'm a Vet

Give a Little Love

An exclusive
Talyton St George
digital short story

Contents

About the Book

About the Author

Title Page

Give a Little Love

Ads for other titles

Copyright

About the book

Three years after an accident left her in a wheelchair, artist Penny Diamond has made a new life for herself in a little cottage on the edge of Talyton St George.

With the aid of her assistance dog Sally and a carer who comes in during the day, she's managing to live an independent, if slightly dull, life.

Until a new carer turns up at her door. Declan is young – a lot younger than Penny – and he brings a breath of fresh air into her life. It doesn't hurt that he's also thoughtful, kind and good looking.

But what could a young man like Declan ever see in a woman like Penny?

About the author

Cathy Woodman began her working life as a small animal vet before turning to writing fiction. In 2002 she won the Harry Bowling First Novel Award and is a member of the Romantic Novelists' Association. She is also a sessional lecturer in Animal Management at a local college for land-based industries.

Vets on Call is the ninth novel set in the fictional market town of Talyton St George in beautiful East Devon where Cathy lived as a child. Cathy now lives with her two children, three exuberant Border Terriers and two cats in a village near Winchester, Hampshire.