EGMONT

Our story began over a century ago, when seventeen-year-old Egmont Harald Petersen found a coin in the street. He was on his way to buy a flyswatter, a small hand-operated printing machine that he then set up in his tiny apartment.

The coin brought him such good luck that today Egmont has offices in over 30 countries around the world. And that lucky coin is still kept at the company's head offices in Denmark.

About Egmont Press

This is Bugville.
One mighty fine city.
Dozens of zoos and gardens.
Scores of theatres and museums.
Hundreds of burger bars.
Thousands of fancy-dress-hire stores.
And millions of . . .
BUGS!

Bugs that included two extraordinary flies – a housefly called Superfly and a midge called, er, Midge.

They were Bugville's very own superheroes. Why, everyone loved those flies!

Superfly and Midge didn't like to talk about themselves or their adventures. But they'd certainly made Bugville a safer place, putting plenty of bad bugs behind bars. Well, OK, so there were still a few crazy bugs out there causing trouble, like . . .

AAAAAAAARRGGHHHHH!!
Look up there!
