About the Author

Joseph Lowery has been writing about computers and new technology since 1981. He is the author of the previous editions of Dreamweaver Bible as well as the recent Adobe CS4 Web Workflows, Adobe CS3 Web Workflows, and CSS Hacks and Filters (all published by Wiley). He is also the author of Joseph Lowery's Beyond Dreamweaver, Dreamweaver MX 2004 Killer Tips (with Angela Buraglia), and Dreamweaver MX 2004 Web Application Recipes and Dreamweaver 8 Recipes (with Eric Ott), all published by New Riders. He has also written books on HTML and on using the Internet for business. His books are international bestsellers, having sold more than 400,000 copies worldwide in eleven different languages. Joe is also a consultant and trainer and has presented at Seybold in both Boston and San Francisco, Adobe conferences in the U.S. and Europe, and at ThunderLizard's Web Design World. He is currently a partner in Mark of the Joe Communications, an eLearning consultancy.

About the Technical Editor

Derren Whiteman has been working on computer books as an author, ghost writer, and technical editor since 1999. He has served as technical editor for this release of the Dreamweaver Bible and the previous five versions of it, and provided technical editing and screenshot creation for other books, including Dreamweaver MX Killer Tips and Dreamweaver MX 2004 Killer Tips. On the Fireworks side, Derren is the coauthor of the Fireworks MX Bible and technical editor of Adobe's Fireworks CS4 Classroom in a Book and the Fireworks 3 and 4 Bibles. In all, he has made substantive contributions to 17 books on Dreamweaver and Fireworks. Derren practices what he preaches by using Dreamweaver and Fireworks in the Web design field and can often be found in discussions about why you don't "need" to use Photoshop to create great Web sites.

When not working in Web-related fields, Derren enjoys digital photography, videography, and DVD creation, usually entailing the use of iMovie, iDVD, Final Cut Express, or DVD Studio Pro. He is an avid Mac user and Apple proponent who makes his home in Toronto, Canada. To find him on the Internet, visit <http://www.derren.com>.

About the Instructional Designer

One of the innovations in Dreamweaver CS5 Bible is the inclusion of Captivate simulations on the Web site, one for each of the Dreamweaver Techniques in the book. All of these interactive movies were created by Mark Fletcher.

Mark Fletcher has been in the I.T. industry for 20 years. He is a seasoned instructional designer and has created eLearning content for blue chip clients including Adobe Systems, Inc. and WebAssist.com. Mark is a partner in the Rapid eLearning development company Mark of the Joe Communications and is a regular contributor to Adobe's Developer Center. Mark was also the technical editor for CSS Hacks and Filters by Joseph Lowery (Wiley Publishing, Inc.). Mark lives on the Northwest coast of the United Kingdom with his wife Vanessa and their two children, Joel and Lucy. Mark can be reached on his personal blog, <http://macrofireball.blogspot.com>.
