

The background of the book cover is a photograph of a lakeside scene at dusk. A large, ornate black lamppost with a glowing yellow light stands on the left. In the foreground, there are several white metal chairs and a table on a wooden deck. The lake is calm, reflecting the soft light of the sunset. In the distance, there are dark silhouettes of hills or mountains under a sky with a gradient of orange, yellow, and blue. The overall mood is peaceful and romantic.
